American Society for Healthcare Human Resources Administration

Our Organization

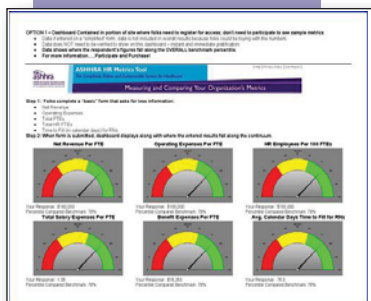

The American Society for Healthcare Human Resources Administration (ASHHRA), a personal membership group of the American Hospital Association (AHA), is the premier source for educational resources, industry research, HR tools, networking, and best practices for the health care HR professional. Headquartered in Chicago, Illinois, the society has more than 3,300 members and serves the needs of over 40 chapters throughout the United States.

Our Commitment

We remain committed to our HR health care organization members by providing tools, resources, industry benchmarks, and cost saving initiatives that assist the health care HR practitioner in achieving the maximum return on investment.
