ASHHRA Announces 4th Annual HealthcareSource New-to-the-Profession Grant

CHICAGO – September 2013 – The American Society for Healthcare Human Resources Administration (ASHHRA), a professional membership group of the American Hospital Association (AHA), in collaboration with HealthcareSource, a provider for talent management software for the health care field, recently announced the 4th Annual HealthcareSource New-to-the-Profession ASHHRA Annual Conference Grant. HealthcareSource will provide three New-to-the-Profession health care human resources (HR) practitioners with a grant of $1,500 each to attend the ASHHRA 49th Annual Conference & Exposition. The grant award is scheduled to be presented September 28, 2013, in Washington, D.C., during the conference.

The purpose of the HealthcareSource New-to-the-Profession Grant is to provide financial assistance to those interested in attending the ASHHRA 49th Annual Conference & Exposition. The objective is to provide New-to-the-Profession health care HR practitioners with a venue to receive educational tools and resources in addition to networking opportunities that will prepare them for the future of health care.

“HealthcareSource is an organization that believes in the advancement of health care HR professionals and giving back to the profession that they serve,” said Stephanie Drake, ASHHRA executive director. “The HealthcareSource New-to-the-Profession Grants are aiding our future health care leaders and for that we are thankful.”

According to Michael DiPietro, chief marketing officer for HealthcareSource, “With the growing health care focus on managing talent more strategically, we support the development of new HR professionals who can lead us with new ideas and new technologies. As a leading provider of health care talent management software, every day we see the impact--fresh, new ideas in HR can help health care organizations reduce costs, improve patient safety, and improve patient satisfaction. This grant is our way of supporting the success of the health care HR profession. ”
